Acey loves to win. First place at a track meet, scoring the winning touchdown, or getting all A's—he wants to be at the top. He dreams about being on the Olympic track team or playing in the NFL. But his real passion? Architecture. To reach his goal, Acey plans to graduate from college first in his class. He knows that working hard now will pay off later. So rain or shine, he makes it to school on time. In a few years, builders will be bringing his designs to life.
